District 15—LAMBERT HITCHCOCK.
District 16—JOSEPH H. BELLAMY.
District 17—AUGUSTUS MILES.

The Election is close at hand. Next Monday the freemen of this State will be again called upon to devote a portion of it to the maintenance of their principles at the ballot box. Are you all ready? and determined to do your whole duty? In the language of one of the Hartford papers, we would say, "To the Polls! To the Polls!" For three successive years you have manfully asserted your rights, and triumphed over a party whose measures have turned your prosperity into adversity, and endangered the free institutions of the republic. The principles for which you have been contending are now on the point of being established—they cannot be maintained without your support, and you must not suffer them to be put down by your supineness and inactivity. Remember that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," and that unless you are continually prepared for the enemy, the vantage ground which you now possess may be lost. Let no considerations, therefore, cause you to neglect your duty. You owe it to yourselves and your country, that you go to the polls, and vote for the men who will sustain your principles. The above tickets for State Officers and Members of Congress, have before received your suffrages—you are acquainted with the candidates, and know that they have been faithful to your interests.

Rally then—one and all—be firm and united—and in the good old ship which has so often borne us to victory, we shall again triumph.

We have not this spring filled our paper with electioneering matter, for the simple reason that we did not think it necessary. The whigs triumphed last fall by such an overwhelming majority that we did not think their opponents could rally successfully for a long time to come. We believed too that the whigs needed only to be reminded of their duty to come fearlessly forward and do it. This we trust they will do next Monday, and show that their majority for our excellent Governor ELLSWORTH and the remainder of the State Ticket shall not be less than it was last fall for the patriot HARRISON. Rally, then, freemen, to the work! Show by your votes that though flushed, we had almost said satiated, with victory, you are again ready to discharge your duty to your beloved State.

VOTES! VOTES!—In consequence of a press of other work, we have not been able to print the Tickets for State Officers, &c. until to-day. Now we have an abundance. Towns which do not calculate to be supplied in any other way will please send for them. Don't imagine, freemen, that because you whipt the loons so badly last fall they will not still show fight. All they calculate upon for success is your supineness. Let them not catch you napping, or without ammunition.

Look well to your votes! See that none of them are spurious, or scratched. Look to this with regard to the Senators, particularly in the 16th and 17th districts, where the contest will be very close, and where there are no whig votes to spare. The 16th, which has been loco for two years past, can be carried triumphantly if every whig will vote as he will wish he had done when the election is over. Let not personal feelings, or the color of a man's eye, prevent any whig from doing his duty. Mr. BELLAMY is worthy of every whig vote in the district. Ostracized though he may be in his own town, let the whigs of the 16th district show him that they appreciate his sterling worth, and his capability for the office to which he has been nominated.

Look to the Towns!—The loons, despairing of success of any thing else in this state, are determined to make a strong effort to carry a majority of the members of the legislature. This they think may be done by a concerted effort upon the towns which heretofore have been nearly balanced—such, for instance, in this county, as Sharon, Washington, New-Milford, &c. Let our friends be cautious: they have a wary foe to contend with, determined to avail themselves of any little differences which may arise among the whigs—they will be ready at all times to sweep a State or Congressional for a Town vote, believing that they have no chance with either of the former, and by this means may gain a representative. Look well to it!

We learn that CHARLES L. PORTER, Esq., has been appointed Postmaster at Hartford, vice Gideon Welles, removed. This is an excellent appointment. No man, in the private walks of life, has been the subject of so much bitter calumny from the loco foco press of this state as he; and we are right glad he has received such a reward for it. His efforts in the whig cause have been untiring and unremitting.

We have received a couple of numbers of a large, very large, sheet, printed at Lee, Mass., called the "Family Visitor." It is a work of such dimensions as cannot meet with sufficient support in a country village to warrant its continuance for many years. In politics it is loco-foco—rather a late hour to establish such premises.

"The American Protector," devoted to the true interests of the Mechanic, Manufacturer, and Farmer, is the title of a moderate sized newspaper just issued from the press at Hartford, and published and edited by a committee of the Mechanics, Manufacturers, and Farmers Association of Connecticut, recently established. If there are any of these classes in this vicinity who would wish to look at or subscribe for it, we should be glad to show it and furnish their names to the publisher.

Mr. Van Buren made his triumphal entry into New-York on Tuesday last week, on his way to Kinderhook. An attempt was made to get up a great display; but the weather was so bad that it failed entirely.

The "State Bazaar," the tender in disguise to the Hartford friends, says we must hereafter judge of its success by "hearsay." Oh dear! how shall we be able to get along without the aid of such an invaluable supply?

At the Editorial Dinner in Washington on the 5th inst. of the New-York Commercial, gave the following toast—"The members of our Profession—The first in requisition in the hour of trouble, the first forgotten in the hour of triumph." That's too true "to make a jest of."

SENATORIAL NOMINATIONS.
The candidates for the office of Senator in the different districts are as follows:
Dis. Whig. Locofoco.
1. Wm. Robinson. Leonard R. Welles.

18. Joseph Chidsey. Charles Woodward.
19. Joseph H. Bellamy. Joshua L. Hommedieu.
20. Wm. A. Foster. Orson Wood.
21. Elam Loomis. Alpheus Kingley, Jr.

FOR CONGRESS.
1. Joseph Trumbull. Thomas H. Seymour.
2. Wm. W. Boardman. Charles A. Ingersoll.
3. Thomas W. Williams. Erastus Coit.
4. Thomas B. Osborne. Wm. S. Pomeroy.
5. Truman Smith. John C. Smith, 2d.
6. John H. Brookway. Chauncey F. Cleveland.

HON. TRUMAN SMITH.
A Convention of his political friends has presented this gentleman to the freemen of Litchfield county as a candidate for re-election to Congress; and of the result I suppose there is little doubt, so little that it may be thought idle for me to urge his claims. If his claims to the distinction were only of an ordinary character, I, for one, would not appear as his advocate. But there are many reasons why he should receive more than an indifferent support; why he should not only be sustained barely, but be elected by a triumphant majority.

It should be recollected by every good whig, that through the long night of Jackson and Van Buren darkness, he stood the unflinching opponent of Loco Foco misrule: the unwavering friend of the people, their rights and interests. When the darkness seemed most gloomy, and the night appeared interminable, he prophesied of the morning in tones which gave courage to the despairing, and energy to the weak.

Occupying this position, he became an object on which the storms of political hate descended with ceaseless fury. From his earliest manhood, up to the present moment, he has been a target—a shining mark—for reckless political archers—but their arrows, though dipped in gall and hemlock, and barbed with heartless malice, have always found him invulnerable—because he has always been protected by theegis of truth, principle, and fidelity.

No good citizen should suffer the first Monday in April to pass without a grateful recollection of his past services, and particularly his personal sacrifices and untiring exertions in the recent national conflict. If ever a hearty support would be peculiarly appropriate—would show a becoming feeling of approbation, and would be gratefully received—it is now in the moment of victory—now when opposition itself is disarmed and silenced, save perhaps only in the case of a half-dozen scavenger editors, whose vituperation should be regarded as unerring testimonials of his worth and merit—now when his industry and ability have earned him a good name and great influence in our national councils, the respect and good will of his fellow-members in Congress, and awakened feelings of hope and interest in the hearts of thousands of good men in other States of the Union.

And, fellow-citizens, you have another duty to perform at the coming election. You have to respond to the truly republican sentiments contained in the inaugural address of Gen. HARRISON. How else can you do it as well as by bestowing a hearty, persevering support upon one who contributed so largely in severing the cords which bound this State to what has done so much towards placing Connecticut among the friends of Harrison and Reform?

LITCHFIELD COUNTY.

For the Enquirer.
Mr. Editor—I have noticed some remarks in your paper respecting a change in the post office of your village. Permit me to suggest another matter, which appears to me of equal importance. The clerkships of our courts, are now in the hands of a worthy man, it is true; but he is confessedly enjoying the most lucrative practice of any member of the profession of law in this county. The profits of the clerkship are equal to one thousand dollars per year, and many competent judges fix a higher sum. Now, sir, if there were no other person competent to discharge the duties of these offices, it might be very proper for the monopoly to be continued in the "family." But that will not be contended. We make a great clamor about rotation in office; but practically all the offices rotate into the hands of one family. The clerkships of this county might be of essential service to some young member of the bar or any other competent person. An enjoyment of their income for a few years would place a young man just struggling into professional existence upon a footing which would enable him to go on his way rejoicing. I know that the appointing power is not with the people, but it is yet the privilege of the public papers to comment upon any matter of this nature. There are some, and not a few, who believe that the public documents and papers of litigants should not be accessible to a lawyer who is always upon one side of any litigated matter in court.

ENQUIRER.

FOR THE LITCHFIELD ENQUIRER.
Mr. Adams—I observed in your last paper that you favorably noticed the attempts made by some of the younger portion of community in this place to organize a Temperance Society. Perhaps some of your readers would be interested to learn the progress made in forming the Society. About twenty names having been affixed to the pledge, a meeting was held on the evening of the 22d inst. for the purpose of forming a Constitution and organizing the Society. The Constitution as adopted considers all persons of both sexes, between the ages of fourteen and thirty-five, who may subscribe to the pledge, as members of the Society. The pledge requires those who subscribe to it, to abstain from the use of ardent spirits.

The following gentlemen were chosen officers of the Society for the ensuing year. Francis Bacon, President—Benjamin H. Morse, Vice-President—and William F. Baldwin, Secretary.

The first regular meeting of the Society will be held at the Court House on Thursday evening of next week—at which time, by an arrangement with the Polemic Society, an address will be delivered before both Societies by Mr. Simeon S. Batterson. All friends of temperance in this community, it is hoped, will not fail to be present on that occasion, and by their presence at the first meeting of the society, encourage their younger friends who are engaged in the same cause.

Regular meetings of the society are to be held once in three months: occasional meetings may be called by the officers. At each regular meeting, an address will be delivered by some gentleman selected by the society, seeking to promote the same ends with themselves—the removal of intemperance from our midst.

SPECIAL ELECTION.—The Governor of Maryland has issued his proclamation ordering the special election for members of Congress to be held the 17th of May next.

The following is an extract from an editorial article in the Norwich Aurora. What does it mean? We thought before seeing this that Farmer Nicoll was a very popular man among the loco; but it seems not by the substance of the paragraph from the aforesaid Aurora, a rabid loco-foco paper.

"But," says one, "I don't like your State Ticket. If you had put on some old stand-by in the democratic ranks, who had braved the storm of Federal tyranny when democracy was in its infancy in Connecticut, and who had ever been conspicuous for his unwavering adherence to right principles, I would have voted with you. But this Mr. Nicoll, I know nothing about. All that I can learn concerning him is that he is a rich New-York merchant, who has come to Connecticut and bought him a farm, and if this is the highest recommendation, I shan't vote for him." To such an objector we answer, first, this is not a time to quarrel about men; secondly, Mr. Nicoll has higher claims than wealth can give him upon the patronage of his fellow-citizens. Though he is not our first choice, we nevertheless consider his nomination, under all circumstances, as a good one, and we trust that every democrat who is at all wavering, will become reconciled to it.

OUR CONGRESS TICKET.
The men in nomination before the Hartford party of this state, have all been tried and found faithful. The Whigs are unanimous in the sentiment that both their talents and their political principles, demand their re-election. The misrepresentation which loco-focoism has sent to our National Councils from the "land of steady habits," has already sufficiently disgraced our good name, deranged our business, and injured our trade. The day of another contest is at hand. Our enemies are marshalled in the field against us. At the polls one week from next Monday, they are to be met. Let every whig be at his post, armed with ballots and arguments. Leave no point unguarded. Especially watchful of the Congress ticket, let no whig neglect to put in his vote. Remember the importance of one vote. Remember the evils of past misrule. Remember the honor of Old Connecticut. Remember her pledges to "Harrison and Reform." Remember political honor, truth, and justice. Remember that loco-focoism can never prevail in this state, except from whig apathy. Remember that we have a healthy majority in every district. And finally, remember to be punctual at the polls on the morning of the 5th of April. Then will you avoid the disgrace of defeat from loco-focoism, and do your part towards sustaining the new administration, by ensuring a Harrison representation in Congress from Connecticut.—Hartford Courier.

John Heath.—JOHN COTTON SMITH, Jr. has been nominated by the loco, for Congress, to run against Truman Smith. John is a very young man, but a very ancient democrat—a real John Heath in that particular.—N. Haven Pal.

Henry Clay, Jr. has withdrawn from the Congressional canvass in the 16th district. He gives as his reason that three other gentlemen, all of the same politics, and all suitable men, are before the people, and his remaining a candidate would only tend to excite and distract the district.

Destructive Fire and Loss of Life at St. Johns, N. B.—A disastrous fire broke out in St. Johns on Wednesday morning last, which destroyed which destroyed eight fine stores, and several buildings in the rear of them, among which were the Observer and Morning News printing offices. A woman and two children perished in the flames, and Mr. Matthew Holdsworth, of the firm of Holdsworth & Daniel, accidentally fell through the hatchway from the third story, and was so much injured that he survived but a few minutes.

Female Suicide.—A girl named Rebecca Jones, aged 21, a native of Chester county, Pa. who five years since left an ample and respectable home in her native country, to lead a life of profligacy in Philadelphia, recently put an end to her miserable career, by taking opium.

Deadly Calamity.—Two young men, sons of Mr. George Geor, were burnt to death in North Stonington on Friday night the 5th inst. under the following circumstances. They were sent out at about 10 o'clock at night to watch a coal pit and were expected to remain all night, but not returning in the morning the usual time, a small party was despatched to the coal pit for them. In a short time they returned with the melancholy intelligence that they were burnt to death. On going to the pit it was found that the cabin in which they slept had burnt down, and nothing was left to tell of their fate except a few bones. Their ages were 19 and 14.—Hartford Review.

FATAL DUEL.—The Cincinnati Republican states that a duel was fought at Alton, Ill., on the 4th inst. between Judge Smith, of the Illinois Supreme Court, and Mr. McClelland, late Secretary of the State of Illinois. The fight was with rifles—distance fifty paces. Judge Smith was the challenger, and was killed on the spot.

MARRIED.
In New-Haven, Mr. Wm. H. Scoville, of Waterbury, to Miss Rebecca H., daughter of the late Hon. Nathan Smith.

DIED.
In this village, on Friday last, Mr. Daniel Roberts, aged 68 years.

In this town, on the 22d ult. Mr. Zephaniah Hull, aged 77—a revolutionary pensioner. He left his home on Monday Tom, in the morning, and went to Milton five or six miles, to procure his pension—obtained it, and started for home—went about half way, when on crossing a stream, as is supposed, he fell in, or fell from some logs placed across the stream, and was so stunned that he was unable to get out before he drowned. He was not particularly anxious to tell of his fall after he left home, his sons believing he might have tarried with some of his friends—search was made, and his body found partly upon the shore, and partly in the stream.—Verdict of the jury, "accidentally drowned."

In Plymouth, on the 21st ult. Charles Edward, infant son of Mr. Alpheus Beers, aged 1 year and ten months.

In Washington, Col. Timothy Mitchell, post master, aged 72—Mr. Samuel Ford, aged 72—Miss Elizabeth Treat, aged 86.

LITCHFIELD.

The meeting of the Whigs of this town on Monday last, for the purpose of nominating Representatives to the next General Assembly, on account of the inclemency of the weather, was postponed to this day, (Thursday,) at 2 o'clock P. M. At that time it is hoped there will be a general rally. Let all who feel an interest in the coming election be on hand. April 1.

THE SLIPS in the Episcopal Church in this village will be rented for one year on Saturday the 10th day of April, at one o'clock P. M.

THE CONCERT which was given by the Choir in St. Michael's Church, on Monday evening last, will be repeated on Monday evening, April 12.

The Polemic Society WILL meet at the Court House this (Thursday) evening, and discuss the following question:—"Was the assassination of Julius Caesar justifiable?" An address will be delivered by Mr. DAVID LYMAN, Jr. By order of the Chairman. Litchfield, April 1, 1841.

NOTICE.
THE members of the Litchfield County Sacred Music Society are requested to call at the Book and Variety Store, and furnish themselves with the music for their next concert, as the music which remains on hand after a few weeks will be returned to Boston. Litchfield, April 1, 1841.

Bethlem Academy.
The summer term of this Institution will commence on Monday the 19th of April next, under the direction of Mr. Henry Fitch, as Principal—an experienced teacher from New-Haven. The course of studies pursued here includes all the branches of a theoretical and practical English education, and a thorough preparation for admission to any collegiate institution in the United States. A good degree of attention will also be given to those who may wish to prepare themselves for teaching. Instruction will likewise be furnished (if desired) in Vocal and Instrumental Music. Terms per quarter of twelve weeks.—For common English branches $3—for the higher ditto $4—for Languages $5. A contingent charge will also be made for use of room, fuel, &c. amounting to about 25 cents per qtr. The School-house was erected during the past year in a very pleasant location; in the construction of which very great attention was given to comfortable arrangements for scholars, ventilation, &c. We know of no place—so far, at least, as local advantages are concerned—which affords greater facilities for the acquirement of an education by youth than Bethlem. The pursuit of the inhabitants is purely agricultural. Manufactories and their accompanying influence on the morals of the surrounding neighborhood are unknown here. In fine, there is nothing which has a tendency to draw off the juvenile mind from study. Board can be obtained in respectable families in the vicinity of the School-house at about $1.50 per week. JOHN C. AMBLER, GEORGE M. KASSON, HOMER SKIDMORE, Trustees. Bethlem, March, 1841. 43
